

Where Planning Is Needed (concluded)

by Titus Edwards

In Your Life. Paul tells us to be “redeeming the time” (Eph. 5:16). Some live from day to day doing whatever feels good with no concern for their future. We need to be thinking of the future, especially after this life is over! We need to plan to have time for God! It is easy to become too busy with other things that we have no time left for serving God. Planning in our lives is needed that we will live righteously, using our time wisely in God’s service, and be ready for the judgment day. I am afraid that some will find themselves condemned in eternity because they did little planning in their lives!

Let us recognize the seriousness of these areas and begin making plans that we may accomplish much for the Lord!
